EXPLANATION OF THE ARRANGEMENT

An attempt has been made, subject to a few conventions described below, to record the exact titles of periodicals and to arrange these titles in strict alphabetical order of the important words, i.e. all nouns and adjectives (in only very few particular instances have verbs, adverbs and prepositions had to be considered also).

1. The words considered in the arrangement of titles are in bold type. The place of publication, where this has been used to determine the arrangement of entries with the same titles, has not, however, been printed in bold type.

2. The following words in titles are disregarded for the purposes of arrangement:

- (a) All articles, except when as suffixes forming part of a noun;
- (b) All prepositions, verbs, adverbs, pronouns and conjunctions, except when forming the first word of a title or to distinguish otherwise identical titles.

All nouns and adjectives disregarded in the arrangement of the titles in previous editions of the World List now count, e.g.

Fortschritte auf dem Gebiet der Chemie,
Bericht über die Tätigkeit der Gesellschaft,
Journal of the Royal Statistical Society,
Mitteilungen der K. Akademie der Wissenschaften,
Journal of the State Department of Agriculture,
Annales de l'Académie r. de physique.

(Note. The foreign titular adjectives Königlich, Kaiserlich, Kaiserlich-Königlich, royale are shortened to K., KK., and r. and included as such in the arrangement.)

3. In many headings variant forms, singulars and plurals, older and more recent forms, have been brought together and recorded in one form, e.g.

Anais for Anais and Annaes,
Arbog for Arbog and Aarbog,
Archivos for Archivos and Arquivos,
Bulletin for Bulletin and Bulletins,
Compte rendu for Compte rendu and Comptes rendus,
Zentralblatt for Zentralblatt and Centralblatt.

General cross references have been included for the alternative forms. At the beginning of a title Report is used for both 'Report' and 'Annual Report', but the forms Biennial Report, Annual Meteorological Report, etc. are not changed.

4. Titles with initial letters are arranged in a separate sequence at the beginning of the letter, e.g.

A.A. Journal. Architectural Association,
A.A.A.S. Bulletin. American Association for the Advancement of Science,
A.C.E.C. Ateliers de construction électriques de Châleroi,
AEC Gazette. Associated Equipment Co.

5. Hyphenated forms are to be read as if forming a single complete word.

6. German ä, ö, u are arranged as if they were ae, oe, ue but in any other language these letters are arranged as a, o, u. No other diacritical marks affect the arrangement.

7. In those periodicals in which the arrangement of words in the title cannot be established, a cross reference is frequently provided from an alternative form, but users should be prepared for an inversion of words such as shown in the following examples:

- (a) Transposition of a geographical name.
Journal of the Department of Agriculture of New Jersey.
Journal of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture.

EXPLANATION OF THE ARRANGEMENT

- (b) Transposition of the name of an Institution with a sub-section.

Bulletin de l'Institut colonial de Marseille, Section des matières grasses.

Bulletin de la Section des matières grasses de l'Institut colonial de Marseille.

- (c) Transposition of the name of the publishing Institution from beginning to end of a title.

Bulletin, Northwestern University.

Northwestern University Bulletin.

8. An article forming the first word of a title is not shown, with the result that a title beginning 'Der deutsche' is entered as 'Deutsche', e.g.

Deutsche Arzt.

Deutsche Techniker.

9. Where a title has been reported in various forms or languages every attempt has been made to bring these together under one form of title and in one language, leaving cross references at the other forms of title, but identification of these variants has not always been possible. Translations of periodicals issued under a different title have been entered separately.

10. Where a title has undergone an actual change a separate entry has been made under the new title where the change is considerable or significant, and the date of the change is shown. (N.B. Where no dates are given for the whole life of a title the date of change may be indicated in one of the holdings by an asterisk.) Continuations are shown in brackets at the foot of the entry. Minor changes may be included within one title. At times where insufficient information about a change has been available a cross reference (occasionally with an abbreviation) has been included for one of the forms.

11. Supplements to periodicals have been entered separately where these supplements are known to have a separate and definite title; otherwise the existence of supplements is merely noted in brackets at the foot of the entry.

12. As the Cyrillic and Greek titles are transliterated in accordance with the 'British' system published in British Standard 2979:1958 there are a number of differences in the arrangement of these titles as compared with earlier editions. The most important of these are as follows:

Greek X is arranged as h instead of ch, e.g.

Hēmika Χημικά

and ' is arranged as ' instead of h, e.g.

'Ellēnikē 'Ελληνική

Russian zh is arranged as ž instead of ye, e.g.

Véstaik Вѣстникъ

and ia is arranged as y instead of ui, e.g.

Promyŝlennost' Промышленность

Ukrainian and White Russian r is arranged as h instead of g and n is arranged as y instead of i, e.g.

Heofyŷehna Геофізична

NOTE ON THE ABBREVIATION OF TITLES

As in previous editions of the World List, each title is followed by an abbreviated form of the title. This abbreviated form is printed in italics. For this fourth edition the abbreviations have, as far as possible, been prepared in accordance with the forthcoming British Standard for the Abbreviation of Titles of Periodicals. In general, the abbreviations are the same as those for previous editions, except that a deliberate attempt has been made in the abbreviations to differentiate cognate forms of certain words. This has been done particularly for cognate forms and cognate words when occurring at the beginning of titles where ability to reconstruct exactly the full word is likely to be of the greatest importance for tracing a title in an alphabetically arranged list. At the beginnings of titles, therefore, some words have been abbreviated to a lesser degree and some words have been left unabbreviated. Contracted, rather than abbreviated forms have frequently proved suitable for differentiating these cognate forms.

Abbreviations (where letters from the end of a word have been omitted) end with a full stop. Contractions (where letters from the middle of a word have been omitted) are not followed by a full stop. Abbreviated titles ending with a contraction or with an unabbreviated word are not followed by a full stop.

Abbreviated nouns begin with a capital letter; abbreviated adjectives and other words (with the few exceptions shown below) begin with a small letter, except that the first word of an abbreviated title always begins with a capital letter.

A few adjectives of honour occurring before the names of institutions and abbreviated to a single letter are represented by a capital letter, e.g.

R. Soc. for Royal Society,
but imp. Acad. for Imperial Academy,
Acad. r. for Académie royale.

Adjectives in the English language formed from proper names begin in their abbreviated form with a capital letter (the decision in the forthcoming British Standard to discontinue this practice was reached too late for the large number of alterations to be made in this World List), e.g.

Am. for American, but am. for americano.

Articles are not shown in the abbreviated titles except in some instances when forming the suffix to a noun.

Prepositions, verbs, adverbs, pronouns and conjunctions are not shown in the abbreviated titles except when forming the first word of a title or very occasionally either to distinguish otherwise identical abbreviated titles or to clarify an abbreviated title. Conjunctions are shown abbreviated or in full when connecting broken compound words, e.g.

Mitt. dt. Gei. Nat.- u. Völkerrk.

Meddtr Danm. Fish.- og Havunders.

Singular and plural forms of words are distinguished in the abbreviated titles only where it is of importance for identification to do so or occasionally for the sake of clarity.

All single-word titles are left unabbreviated, even if consisting of a long compound word.

In compound words the abbreviation frequently consists of the abbreviation of each of the elements of the compound word, but without a full stop after the first abbreviation unless this word is followed by a hyphen in the full form, e.g.

EntwMech

MaterPrüf.

Auto-Rdich.

esenbtech.

In such compounds, for the sake of clarity, some words forming the first element are left unabbreviated, but frequently with a more drastic abbreviation of the second element. In the case of compound adjectives, a hyphen is occasionally introduced into the abbreviation to avoid confusion, e.g.

Naturw. (as opposed to Nat. and Wirt.)

auto.-tech. (as opposed to esenbtech.)

SELECT LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS USED

This list of abbreviations and their corresponding full forms is intended as a guide to reconstructing the full title of a periodical from an abbreviation in World List form.

The mark * before an abbreviation in this list indicates that, although this is the abbreviation used generally, a longer form is used to differentiate variants or cognates when the word occurs at the beginning of a title. This longer form, if it is still an abbreviation, will be found in the list in brackets; the use of unabbreviated forms will be found by referring to entries in the World List beginning with these words.

When the full word is followed by etc., it indicates that the same abbreviation is used for cognate forms in the same or in another language. As a result, in this list no distinction is made in these instances between abbreviations for nouns and adjectives (elsewhere indicated by the use of an initial capital letter for nouns and an initial small letter for adjectives), e.g.

Acad.—Academy etc. indicates that Acad. is the abbreviation used for Academy, Académie, Academia, and acad for academic, académique, academica.

* Activ.—Activity etc. indicates that Activ. is the abbreviation generally used for Actividad, Actividades, Activité, Activités, Activity, Actividades, but that these words are differentiated in abbreviated titles by longer forms when they occur at the beginning of a title.

In this list abbreviations are shown for nouns except where the abbreviation shown is always used for the adjectival form, the cognate noun form being less drastically abbreviated at the beginning of titles, or where an adjectival form is met with more frequently, e.g. Anat.—Anatomy etc. indicates not only that other cognate nouns are represented by Anat. but also that cognate adjectives are indicated by anat.; **aeronaut.*—aeronautical etc. indicates that cognate adjectives are represented by aeronaut. while cognate nouns are represented by Aeronaut. only when they do not come at the beginning of titles, where a longer or unabbreviated form is used; curr.—current etc. indicates not only that other cognate adjectives are represented by curr. but also that cognate nouns are indicated by curr.

Normally the place of imprint is omitted except when needed to distinguish periodicals with the same title, e.g.

Annali idrologici.	Bologna.	Annali idrol., Bologna
Annali idrologici.	Roma.	Annali idrol., Roma
Ethnos.	Lisboa.	Ethnos, Lisbon
Ethnos.	Mexico.	Ethnos, Méx.
Ethnos.	Stockholm.	Ethnos, Stockholm

or to distinguish titles with the same abbreviated title, e.g.

Botanische Studien	Bot. Stud., Jena
Botaniska studier	Bot. Stud., Lund

Details of variant forms of abbreviation for words when occurring at the beginning of a title are shown here only for abbreviations with the initial letters A to P. The variant forms for abbreviations with initial letters later in the alphabet will be shown in the fuller list in the third volume.
